100% NATURAL: This product is unique and effective due to the adaptive positivity of freeze dried herbs and botanicals which have been used for centuries in Thailand and which provide enzymes and vital biochemical compounds that enhance appearance and health.

PURE: Welcome to our world of 100% natural personal care products. The Thai Spa Facial is provided as dry powder to avoid the use of any preservatives. The removal of water eliminates the medium for the product to degrade and eliminates the need for preservatives of any kind. If this was a liquid or crème we would need to add preservatives and/or use a heat process that diminishes the value of the herbs. There are no perfumes, artificial colors, preservatives, synthetic chemicals, or additives of any kind whatsoever contained in this product or used in the production process. All bio-active ingredients are obtained from plants. This product has no toxins and during its application and removal if you get the powder in your eyes, nose or mouth there will be no negative effects.

SKIN HEALTH: Your skin is your largest organ. It provides essential protection and is an important part of you elimination, absorption heat exchange, water regulation and other systems that contribute to overall body balance. Clean healthy skin has positive health benefits for people of any age in addition to improving your appearance.

DYNAMIC FREEZE DRIED: Thai Freeze Dry uses an evolutionary and transitional new process that makes this facial so effective. This scientific breakthrough in the preservation of the herbs and botanicals distinguishes this product from all others. Thanakha” is a yellow powder made from the pulp and bark of the thanakha tree found in Burma. Thanakha has been used as a skin- care botanical for 1000 years to protect against UV radiation, tighten skin, and absorb excess oils and impurities. Dynamic freeze dried mangosteen rind provides the bio-active enzymes that dissolve dead skin cells, antioxidants and anti-inflammatory compounds that cleanse, detoxify and repair the skin. A special variety of Thai ginger (Plai) adds a soothing quality while its essential oils are noted for their anti-aging and skin-whitening qualities. Thai ginger has been used for centuries in S.E. Asia for its anti-inflammatory, bactericidal and muscle relaxant properties.

Its mildly abrasive texture helps Step 1 to exfoliate and makes this the perfect deep cleansing “scrub” for the first step of your Thai Spa Facial

STEP No2. Herbal Mask -

- Detox
- Face Lift /tighten skin
- Reduce Wrinkles
- Soften and Smooth Skin
- Moisturize
- Nourish and Restore
- Promote collagen synthesis
- Preserve elastin
- Lighten Skin Color

A rare mineral-rich volcanic grey clay found in only one location at an underground mineral water spring in N. Thailand provides excellent absorption and tightens and enriches the skin.

The clay mask is taken to a new level with the addition of dynamic freeze dried whole noni fruit used for centuries throughout Asia and the Pacific to provide a wide variety of health benefits including protecting, softening, and repairing the skin. Natural moisturizers in the noni soften, nourish, balance, and restore your skin.

To the noni we add dynamic freeze dried Amalaki, one of the most important botanicals in the 5000-year-old Ayurvedic tradition known for its strong ant-aging properties. Amalaki (or “Amala”) is referred to in Ayurveda as “The Great Rejuvenator.” It is one of the plant kingdom’s most potent sources of naturally occurring vitamin C, which helps to support your natural synthesis of collagen. Amalaki acts to prevent degradation of elastin, which helps to repair wrinkles and keep the skin flexible, tight, and smooth. As a skin-lightening agent, Amalaki lightens naturally pigmented skin and reduces UV- induced skin pigmentation.

Men:

Today, men are looking to maintain their competitive advantage (socially and economically) through greater investment in their personal appearance.

Ladies, these treatments are for the men in your life as well. In the comfort and privacy of your home, get your man to try a Thai Spa Facial. You’ll both be pleased by the results.

Teens:

Teens find great value in the Thai Spa Facial to help control the symptoms of acne. There is a physiological element to acne having to do with changing body chemistry but there are also physical conditions that we can alter to affect its severity. Deep cleansing, removal of excess oils and toxins, and potent anti-inflammatory phyto-compounds can dramatically reduce the occurrence and severity of acne.

LOOK BETTER, FEEL BETTER, LIVE BETTER:

The Thai Spa Facial is a superior natural treatment used in the finest Thai spas. It is our privilege to bring you Asia's natural herbal beauty secrets. We hope you will enjoy the sublime benefits of our 100% natural products in body, mind and spirit.

Nature combined with our new scientific breakthrough in the processing of herbs and botanicals (Dynamic Freeze Dry Process) provides a path for a revitalizing journey that responds uniquely to your health and beauty needs.

Inside Beauty

There is an old expression that "beauty comes from within." At the same time you're treating your skin treat the inner causes of the skin problems you may be experiencing. Attack the root causes of your skin problems and cleanse yourself from the inside as well. Thai Freeze Dry produces a wide range of Dynamically Freeze Dried Asian herbs that have, for centuries, delivered successful results and are now verified with modern scientific research. Two of these herbs which are contained in the Thai Spa Facial powders are Amalaki fruit and Mangosteen rind and we suggest that you take two capsules of each on a regular daily basis to cleanse, detoxify and balance from the inside.

The Thai Spa Facial will produce dramatic noticeable results immediately and without the use of the recommended herbs that bring "inside beauty." However, the combination is powerful over a long-term basis.

Amalaki is the most important herb in the 5000 year old Ayurvedic medical tradition. It was (and still is) used by yogis to cleanse their system before going into deep meditation. At the root of yoga and Ayurveda is the concept that imbalances in the conversion of matter to energy and energy to matter interrupt your overall good health and natural healing abilities. In balance (homeostasis) your health and natural healing systems are at their best. In the Northern Thai (“Lanna”) tradition we rely on the “Wisdom of Equilibrium” as the key to good physical and mental health. In Ayurveda and other health systems one of the root causes of blockages and imbalances are attributed to the accumulation of toxins which find their way into the bloodstream and create havoc. The Amalaki product brief is attached. It will not only dramatically help with your skin, but holistically assist with your entire well-being.

Mangosteen rind has been used for centuries as a poultice applied to skin infections and is an incredibly strong source of antioxidant compounds as well as being a traditional natural remedy for inflammation. Scientists have isolated phyto-chemical compounds in the Mangosteen pericarp (rind) that interrupt the inflammation cycle. This combination of super strong protection from free radical imbalance and anti-inflammatory relief make Mangosteen an excellent supplement for very many health issues including those that may have a negative impact on your skin. As in the case of Amalaki, Mangosteen will not only help with your skin, but with your entire body. The Mangosteen product brief is attached.

Thai Freeze Dry has consistently found that weekly application of the Thai Spa Facial combined with daily supplements of Amalaki and Mangosteen will clear up your skin problems faster and better and prevent them from reoccurring. This is a clear example of prevention being the best cure. Get clean, get balanced inside and out. Stay that way. What may start out as an attempt to improve your appearance, if handled holistically, will improve your entire well-being – body, mind and spirit.

We, at Thai Freeze Dry, are grateful to have this opportunity to assist you. Try our products and trust in yourself. You don't have to wait months or weeks or even days to see the results. In this case the most obvious results are immediate and dramatic while, at the same time, these products will work at deeper levels to gradually improve your overall health.
